We have new varieties which are originated in our plant breeding department each year, and will offer them to the growers each season as they develop.

WILSON'S GOLDEN OVAL MUSKMELON: Is the earliest large melon grown. It begins to ripen at the same time as Golden Champion but continues to bear and ripen good melons over the entire season until frost. The vines are very prolific and is very resistant to the Aphis, it being the only variety to live thru the Aphies scorge of 1931, it setting and ripening a second crop after the Aphis disappeared. The melon is oval shaped and ribbed with a very fine, thick netting. The meat is very thick, of deep orange color and of a remarkably fine flavor. Is fine grained and free from stringiness. We had planted about 35 of all the leading varieties now being grown in 1931, but none of them stood the unfavorable weather and insect attacks and bore and ripened perfect fruit like the Golden Oval. It hauls and handles well, does not bruise like many other melons, and is a first-class keeper. We have grown all the leading varieties and have found none to equal it as a good market melon. Pkt. 30c; oz. 50c; 4 oz. $1.50; ½ lb. $2.75; 1 lb. $4.75.

MUSKMELON—Solomon Giant. It is a giant in size, thickness of meat and good quality. Season early to midseason. A fine melon for local marketing. A good repeater. The melons vary in size from 7 to 14 pounds each, meat being sometimes over 2 inches thick.

Wilson's Golden Oval Muskmelon

Pkt. 40c; oz. 75c; 4 oz. $2.50; ½ lb. $4.50.

Right: Wilson's Black

MUSKMELON—Wilson's Black African. A rather large melon of very dark green color, remaining almost green when ripe. The vine is a strong grower and a heavy yielder. The meat is green, very thick and of the very best flavor. This melon keeps for a long time after picking, making it a good market melon. Season late.

MUSKMELON—Wilson's Black. A selection of one of the variations from the Wilson Black African. The meat is very thick, of bright orange color and of a superior quality, almost melting in your mouth. It is a good keeper, remaining fresh and good for almost weeks after it is picked from the vine. These melons are of a dark green color of about 3½ pounds. Color changes only slightly when ripe. Season of ripening is early to midseason.

Price of either of the above: Pkg. 25c; oz. 60c; 4 oz. $1.60; ½ lb. $3.00; pound, $5.75.

THE DAN HARRISON MUSKMELON: A new one. This melon has a great future, being a cross of Rocky Ford on Honey Dew. The rind is an ivory white in color, ribbed and heavily netted rind. It has thick, green meat which is very sweet and of fine flavor. The vines are healthy and productive. It is the most beautiful muskmelon of all while growing. Is a good keeper. Ripens in mid-season. Pkt. 30c; oz. 50c; 4 oz. $1.50; 1 pound $5.50.

NEW WATERMELONS

Wilson's No. 82. A very beautiful, long melon of large size and delicious quality with dark and light green variegated stripes. A good shipper and good local market melon due to its good quality, hard rind and productiveness. Pkt. 30c; oz. 50c; ¼ lb. $1.25; 1 lb. $3.00.

WILSON'S OOOX OR THE PRIDE OF THE PRAIRIE

PLEASANT MEMORY MUSKMELON

The vine of this new melon shows a resistance to aphids. We originated it by crossing the Tip top on the Golden Oval, passing into the Pleasant Memory a portion of the aphid resistance qualities of the Golden Oval vines. The melon is slightly smaller than the Tip Top. Color of rind is grayish green, ribbed and finely netted, turning to pale yellow when ripe. It has very thick, green meat, sometimes splashed with a bright pink, which is somewhat stringy and of extreme sweetness and fine flavor. From its extreme good flavor we have named it Pleasant Memory as one cannot think of it without remembering its good qualities.

The vine is a strong grower and very hardy and productive. It is solid and handles and hauls well like Golden Oval. We have only a small amount of these seeds, and can only spare a few packets this season. Price per packet $3.00.

WILSON'S NEW GOLDENHOOK MUSKMELON

The vines show resistance to aphids. This is a cross between Wilson's Golden Oval, one of the best melons that grows, and Burpee's Fordhook, a melon also of excellent quality and very solid rind. The cross has produced a melon about the size of Hearts of Gold, but while not as flat as Fordhook, the Goldenhook is slightly flattened at the ends. It is a grayish green color, changing to a light yellow or cream color when ripe. The ribs are pronounced and covered with a fine netting. The meat is very thick of orange color and of extreme good quality. It is well adapted to shipping, being the right size to pack well in cases and has good keeping qualities. The vines are strong growers and very productive and show a marked resistance to the aphid, which is passed on to it from its parent, Golden Oval. We have only a small amount of these seeds and can only supply a few packets. Per packet: $3.00.

The Story of Wilson's Aphid Resistant Golden Oval Muskmelon

We originated it in 1924 by crossing Pollock's 10-25 on Schumway's Giant, and in 1926 we noticed that some of the vines were thrifty, not seeming to be affected by the aphid to any marked degree. It occurred to me that if I should try it might be possible to develop a vine that the aphid could not kill, also retain the excellent quality and productiveness and at the same time develop a very early melon. With these three things in mind, we set out with our work and you can imagine our joy when, in 1931, the aphid destroyed most of the melon vines in the Solomon Valley, as well as our own 16-acre patch. The Golden Oval resisted the attack on them and continued to bloom and bear good melons. It was then that we realized that we had succeeded even beyond our expectations and had opened up a new field for further development work. We had made some crosses from Golden Oval on other melons and it was then we discovered the Golden Oval would pass on when crossed with melons, at least a part of its resistance, to the aphid. This brought forth our New Goldenhook and our New Pleasant Memory Muskmelons, which you now see listed in our price list.

Our ambition now is to develop a cucumber vine that the aphid cannot kill.

SHALLOWING THE EYES OF THE IRISH COBBLER POTATO

Four years ago there arose a demand for some one to develop an Irish Cobbler potato with shallow eyes and a shallow stem indent that would cut away less waste in peeling. We purchased two bushels of selected seed potatoes then set to work re-selecting them again and got about one-half bushel of seed from them to start our experiment with. We then selected them again and so on, and are glad to say that after four years' work with them we have met with a degree of success. The eyes are much shallower and the dent at the stem end is much shallower than they were in the original stock. We do not have any of this seed to offer this year as we figure it will be two or three years yet before we should release any of them. As near as we can figure at the present time, it will cost less than $1,000 to produce the first 100 bushels of these potatoes with a comparatively smooth surface.

SEVEN REASONS FOR PLANTING GOLDEN OVAL MUSKMELONS

No. 1 The vine resists aphids and saves time and labor.

No. 2. It is the earliest large melon grown. Begins ripening as early as Golden Champlain.

No. 3. It is very productive, bearing all season until killed by frost.

No. 4. It's fine flavor and extreme sweetness.

No. 5. It's thick meat, fine keeping and hauling qualities.

No. 6. Yields big returns to the grower.

No. 7. It's fine appearance as it is one of the most beautiful melons grown.

WILSON'S OOOX PRIDE OF THE PRAIRIE WATERMELON

Is proving to be a very desirable kind. It is a big melon, not quite so long as the Irish Gray, but is much thicker through. Free from the neck that is so pronounced in the Irish Gray. Both ends of the melon are of the same size. They weigh from 25 to 40 pounds each. The color is the same as Irish Gray with the same delicious red meat. Seeds vary slightly from white to a small brown marking. The rind has a faint indication of a stripe. They are the most attractive melon in appearance I have ever seen. Good shipper as well as local market melon. Include these in your order.

No. 28 Watermelon: A very large and attractive melon that deserves a trial.

MEXQUAW CORN

This new corn was originated by crossing Mexican June with White Flint or White Squaw.

This cross has produced a corn which is softer than White Flint, but is harder than Mexican June.

The ears are long with 8 to 12 rows and is excellent for roasting ears as it is very early. A strong grower, yields an enormous crop and withstands the drouth much better than Sweet Corn. We can especially recommend this corn for hot, dry climates as it always produces some corn regardless of the season. Price: 1 oz. pkt., 15c; 4 oz., 25c; 1 lb. 35c.

A NEW WATERMELON

Our Black Eye Kleckley. We do not know the cross as we found it among our selection of seed melons taken from the Kleckley's sweet patch in the fall of 1929. It is a little thicker through than a Kleckley's Sweet, the same size at both ends and the rind is smooth and very hard, of a very dark green color and even more beautiful than a Kleckley's. The core is bright red, of extreme sweetness and the seed is white with black eyes, giving it a beautiful appearance when cut open, as well as one of the best in quality. It grows about the same weight as its parent, but will haul and ship much better on account of its hard rind. Price: Packet, 40c; oz. 60c.

NEW SWEET CORN

We have secured a cross between Professor Yeager's Golden Gem, or Golden Cream, and Golden Bantam Sweet corn which I believe will be quite an improvement over either of its parents by being earlier than Golden Bantam and larger ears than Golden Gem, and the extreme good quality of both. Our seed supply is small. Price: 2-oz. pkt. 25c.

SPECIAL

We have a supply of especially good seed from selected melons in the following varieties:

Stone Mountain, Kleckley's Sweets, Irish Gray, Tom Watson, Alabama Sweet, Russian and Winter Watermelons.

Special low prices of 60 cents per pound.

We also have a fine lot of Rocky Ford Muskmelons at 60 cents per pound.

LIMA BEANS

Henderson's Bush Lima Beans have proven very hardy and prolific in our community. We have been growing them for the past eight years and no matter how dry the season, they have always produced some beans. We are making a special price of 20 cents per pound at our seed store this spring.

KENTUCKY BLUE GRASS SEED

We have the best quality of blue grass seed that it is possible to buy at a special low price of 30 cents per pound, post paid, and 20 cents per pound at our seed house.

One of the surest fruit crops of Kansas is the Kansas Black Raspberry, one of the most luscious fruits grown. We have a good supply of these tip-rooted plants and make a special low price of $4.00 per hundred at our patch.

We have a few of the Pottawatomie Plum Sprouts at 25 cents each.

We have growing a special lot of roses, most of which are perpetual hybrids, some bloom 3 and 4 times during the summer. These are 3 and 4 years old and are free from disease. We have the following varieties: General Jack Red, J. B. Clark Red, Paul Neyron Pink, Ulrich Brunner Red, General Washington Red, Prince Camille De Rohn, a very dark red; Red Radiance, and Margarete Dickinson White and Paul's Scarlet Climber. Price at our garden: 40cts each; by mail, add 15 cents.

Some of our newer experiments are by crossing and selection is to remove the hulls from what is known as Dynamite Pop Corn, also to remove the hulls from Queen's Golden Pop Corn, and remove the hard centers from the Japanese Hulless Pop Corn.

I have been carrying on these experiments but two years and at present we do not know how much success I will have with these.

Purebred Livestock   Pure Seeds   Poultry Feeds

It has been our endeavor to run this farm on an experimental basis. We have selected the livestock and crops which seemed to us best adapted to this locality.

ATLAS SORGO—a kafir-cane cross seems well adapted to this section as a silage and forage crop. Yields of 14 ton green silage per acre have been obtained. The sugar content of Atlas is high as evidenced by a yield of 50 gallons sorghum per acre. A limited quantity of seed at $1.50 per cwt. We have PEARL and SOUTH AMERICAN GIANT POP CORN for seed.

When you come for seeds and poultry feeds don't forget to inspect our Perfection line of milkers, separators and farm equipment.
